Burt & Company Helps to Push State Licensing Through

WIXOM, MICHIGAN— Jonathan Burt and his staff in conjunction with massage schools, professional organizations and members of the general public have finally gotten the massage licensing bill passed-December 30, 2008. This was a grueling process, but it has come to fruition. Governor Granholm signed the bill into law on Friday, Jan 9, 2009.

There will be a board appointed by Governor Granholm consisting of eleven people. (Seven massage therapists/myomassologists and four members of the public) The board is meant to serve the massage community by implementing rules, protocols, and overseeing the future of the massage license in the wonderful state of Michigan.

This is an opportunity of a lifetime for therapists and the public alike. Archaic rules from city-to-city will be overturned, the public will experience policy changes just as they did with chiropractic care during the last twenty years, and massage therapists will work toward being unified as one professional industry.

Hooray, this causes for a celebration-call for details.
